

A Conversation about Education and Schools

Community consultation with students living with disability and their families

We want to hear your thoughts about school education in South Australia.

This consultation is a chance for school students living with disability and their families to have their voices heard about school culture and belonging.

We want to hear about positive experiences at school and the things you think your school does well.

It may also be that you have had struggles at school or you don't feel like you're a part of your school community. There may be things that get in the way of you joining in and learning at your school. Tell us your ideas about how this could be improved.

This consultation is a part of the Inclusive School Communities Project. JFA Purple Orange is delivering a 2-year project to build capacity of at least 12 schools across metropolitan and greater Adelaide to advance school inclusion practices. The project is funded by a National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) Information Linkages and Capacity Building (ILC) Jurisdictional Based Grants.
